

As it's nearly Christmas, we wanted to give you all a gift! See below for details of our amazing new videos featuring our teachers and students from summer 2011. Thank you again to everyone involved in the videos - you're great!

Student's Global Video

The idea of doing the student video was to give prospective students a chance to hear about Reach Cambridge directly from our own students. In the video they talk about what the program involves, their favourite moments, what they have learnt and what they think of it overall. It also gives you the chance to see how global Reach Cambridge truly is - you really will meet students from all over the world! Teacher Video

The second video is from a teacher's perspective and we are lucky enough to have had comments from our own amazing course teachers, as well as several brilliant teachers who accompanied our various school groups. This year, we had a record number of school groups attending the program, including those from Canada, Singapore, Indonesia and India. They have the opportunity to mix with our other international students in July and August. WATCH THE VIDEO HERE: Reach Cambridge - A Teacher's Perspective
