Our Bespoke Courses allow schools to design their ideal program – we can provide a course matched specifically to the age and ability of your students, to your particular school curriculum and academic interests, for whatever time of year suits your school best. We dedicate ourselves to providing each group with an academically enriching and culturally immersive program.

With a large network of experienced teachers from Cambridge and other top universities, we will craft a challenging and inspiring intellectual experience for your students, in whichever subject areas the school requests. Previous courses have covered a wide variety of topics in the Sciences, Humanities, and Arts – sessions have ranged from Nuclear Physics, Stem Cells and Microbiology to Ethics, Social Anthropology and Theoretical Linguistics. Whether you're interested in an intensive one-subject course closely tied to an exam curriculum, or you want a wide-ranging and eclectic academic experience, we will be very happy to design a program for you.

Our newly-renovated residential study venue is situated by the river and just five minutes from the centre of Cambridge. Reach Hall can accommodate up to 30 students and staff, and with a classroom space on-site, it is the ideal setting for an academic program - please visit our Groups Venue page for more information.

From punting trips to museum visits, we can provide the right local activities for your group. Each course can also be complemented by relevant cultural excursions to UK destinations such as Oxford, Stratford-upon-Avon and the many sights of London.

As well as the teaching, activities and excursions, we can also arrange all the catering and airport transfers to and from Cambridge.

We understand that leading a study trip can be a big responsibility for teachers and this is why
